

Vatnik SOUP

Soups & side dishes
Follow & support
More about...
Language

► Soup 395, August 16, 2026

Degenerate Russia: Nazi vatniks

In today's Vatnik Soup and "Degenerate Russia" series, we'll discuss Russia's Nazi problem, Nazi vatniks, and the sheer absurdity of Russia's "denazification" claims to justify its genocidal invasion of Ukraine.

INFO

Russia loves to build its whole national identity around the Soviet victory against Nazi Germany, to insane degrees of "pobedobesie" hysteria. Russians conveniently forget two things: how they actually started WWII on the side of the Nazis...

May 9

SOWING THE WIND: THE FIRST SOVIET-GERMAN MILITARY PACT AND THE ORIGINS OF WORLD WAR II

IAN JOHNSON
JUNE 7, 2016
COMMENTARY

Before dawn on June 22, 1941, German bombers began to rain destruction down on a swath of Soviet cities from Leningrad to Sevastopol. It was the beginning of Operation Barbarossa, the largest military operation in the history of the world. By the end of the day, three million German soldiers and their allies crossed the Soviet border, inaugurating the bloodiest phase of World War II. The invasion also brought to a bloody conclusion 20 years of secret cooperation between Germany and the Soviet Union.

While Soviet-German military cooperation between 1922 and 1935 is often forgotten, it had a decisive impact on the origins and outbreak of World War II. Germany rebuilt its shattered military at four secret bases hidden in Russia. In exchange, the Reichswehr sent men to teach and train the young Soviet officer corps. However, the most important aspect of Soviet-German cooperation was its technological component. Together, the two states built a network of laboratories, workshops, and testing grounds in which they developed what became the major weapons systems of World War II. Without the technical results of this cooperation, Hitler would have been unable to launch his wars of conquest.

... and how their one big victory is owed to the massive help that the Soviet Union received from US and UK allies.

They also focus very narrowly on the military defeat of the Nazis, as traitors who dared invade them, instead of invading others with them.

World War II Allies: U.S. Lend-Lease to the Soviet Union, 1941-1945

Home | News & Events | World War II Allies: U.S. Lend-Lease to the Soviet Union, 1941-1945

Even before the United States entered World War II in December 1941, America sent arms and equipment to the Soviet Union to help it defeat the Nazi invasion. Totalling $11.3 billion, or $180 billion in today's currency, the Lend-Lease Act of the United States supplied needed goods to the Soviet Union from 1941 to 1945 in support of what Stalin described to Roosevelt as the "enormous and difficult fight against the common enemy – bloodthirsty Hitlerism."

- 400,000 jeeps & trucks
- 14,000 airplanes
- 8,000 tractors
- 13,000 tanks
- 1.5 million blankets
- 15 million pairs of army boots
- 107,000 tons of cotton
- 2.7 million tons of petrol products
- 4.5 million tons of food

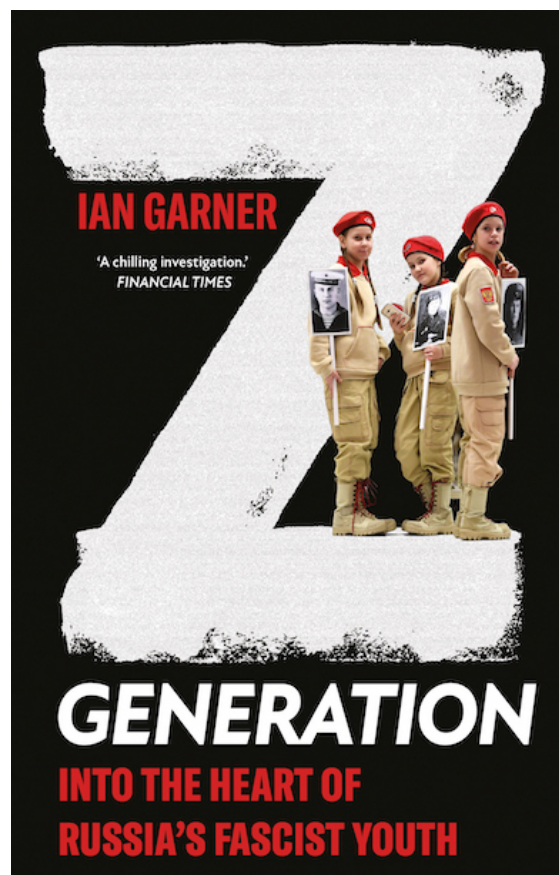

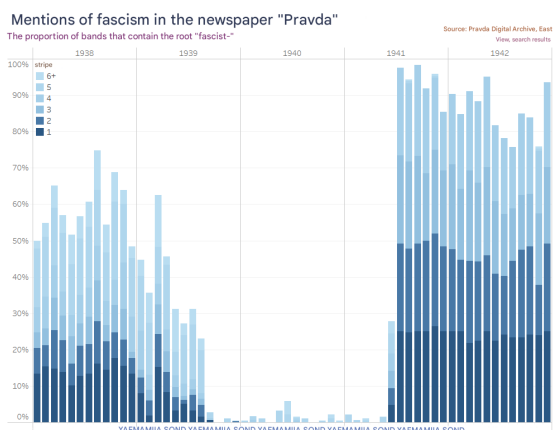

"We'll show them how to gut people!" he would say malevolently of the Germans—those same Germans with whom he had wanted so to be in a long, solid alliance. He had not guessed or foreseen that the pact of 1939, which he had considered the outcome of his own great cunning, would be broken by an enemy more cunning than himself. This was the real reason for his deep depression at the start of the war. It was his immense political miscalculation. Even after the war was over he was in the habit of repeating, "Ech, together with the Germans we would have been invincible!"

INFO

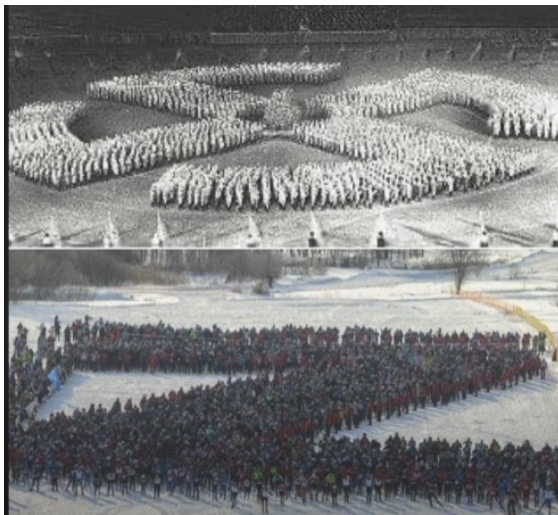

Crucially, the Russian state has no objection whatsoever to any other aspect of Nazism, such as its fascistic militarization of society, indoctrination of the youth, cult of a dictatorial leader, or antisemitism...

Antisemitism as
Russian propaganda

... nor to its omnipresent meaningless symbols, and certainly not to its genocides and invasions — as long as it's not Russia itself being invaded.

Ukraine, conversely, has low antisemitism, a pluralistic, democratic and open society, and most importantly did not invade nor genocide anyone.

Ukrainian Jewish organizations even told Putin:

“Your certainty of the growth of anti-Semitism in Ukraine also does not correspond to the actual facts. It seems you have confused Ukraine with Russia, where Jewish organizations have noticed growth in anti-Semitic tendencies.”

Exiled chief rabbi says Jews should leave Russia while they can

Exclusive: Pinchas Goldschmidt warns Jewish population will be made scapegoat for hardship caused by war

Pinchas Goldschmidt also said that while Russia's Jews faced an uncertain future, antisemitism was on the rise across Europe and the US. Photograph: Matthias Schröder/AP

Moscow's exiled chief rabbi says Jews should leave Russia while they still can, before they are made scapegoats for the hardship caused by the war in Ukraine.

"When we look back over Russian history, whenever the political system was in danger you saw the government trying to redirect the anger and discontent of the masses towards the Jewish community," Pinchas Goldschmidt told the Guardian. "We saw this in tsarist times and at the end of the Stalinist regime."

"We're seeing rising antisemitism while Russia is going back to a new kind of Soviet Union, and step by step the iron curtain is coming down again. This is why I believe the best option for Russian Jews is to leave," he added.

Goldschmidt resigned from his post and left Russia in July after refusing to back the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

"Pressure was put on community leaders to support the war and I refused to do so. I resigned because to continue as chief rabbi of Moscow would be a problem for the community because of the repressive measures taken against dissidents," he said.

Open letter of Ukrainian Jews to Russian Federation President Vladimir Putin

Mr. President!

We are Jewish citizens of Ukraine: businessmen, managers, public figures, scientists and scholars, artists and musicians. We are addressing you on behalf of the multi-national people of Ukraine, Ukraine's national minorities, and on behalf of the Jewish community.

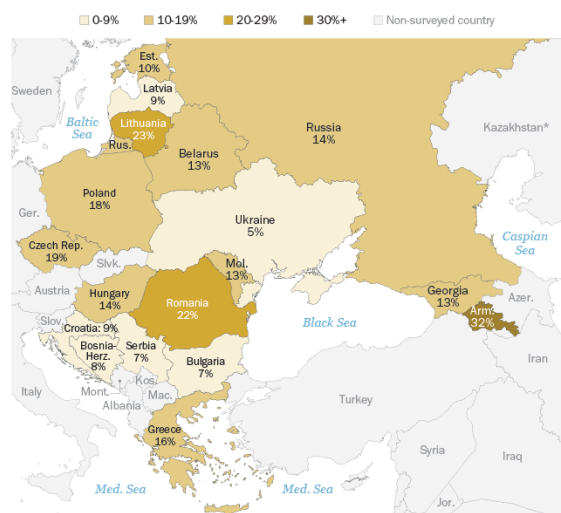

You have stated that Russia wants to protect the rights of the Russian-speaking citizens of Crimea and all of Ukraine and that these rights have been flouted by the current Ukrainian government. Historically, Ukrainian Jews are also mostly Russian-speaking. Thus, our opinion on what is happening carries no less weight than the opinion of those who advise and inform you.

We do not believe that you are easy to fool. You consciously pick and choose lies and slander from the massive amount of information about Ukraine. And you know very well that [former Ukrainian president] Viktor Yanukovich's statement concerning the time after the latest treaty had been signed that "...Kyiv is full of armed people who have begun to trash buildings, places of worship, churches. Innocent people have begun to suffer. People have simply been robbed and killed in the street..." are lies, from the first word to the very last.

The Russian-speaking citizens of Ukraine are not being humiliated or discriminated against, their civil rights have not been limited. Meanderings about "forced Ukrainization" and "bans on the Russian language" that have been so common in Russian media are on the heads of those who invented them. Your certainty of the growth of anti-Semitism in Ukraine also does not correspond to the actual facts. It seems you have confused Ukraine with Russia, where Jewish organizations have noticed growth in anti-Semitic tendencies last year.

In some countries in Central and Eastern Europe, roughly one-in-five adults or more say they would not accept Jews as fellow citizens

% of adults who say they would not be willing to accept Jews as citizens of their country

*Kazakhstan was surveyed as part of this study, but results were not analyzed.
Source: Survey conducted June 2015-July 2016 in 18 countries. See Methodology for details.
"Religious Belief and National Belonging in Central and Eastern Europe"
PEW RESEARCH CENTER

Russia calls Ukrainians Nazis because they see them as enemies. The rest is propaganda — they dig up some staged or edited photos of Nazis with Ukrainian flags, maybe some real ones of some insignificant cringe extremists (all countries have them).

Significantly, the photos of alleged Nazis in Ukraine are almost always anonymous, never showing any named person, let alone anyone with any political power.

Ironically, when a Nazi can be identified, it often turns out to be... a Russian Nazi, like Alexei Maximov.

Alice Zhuravel @AliceZhuravel · Jan 28

I've spent the last eleven months searching for nazis in #Lviv. Twenty-eight years in #Ukraine.

Can someone, who has never been to Ukraine and only reads "independent" media, help me to find them here?

Russian neo-Nazi rally led by Totenkopf and Russian Imperialist Movement member, Alexei Maximov, on Russia's National Unity Day in Moscow, Nov. 4, 2012

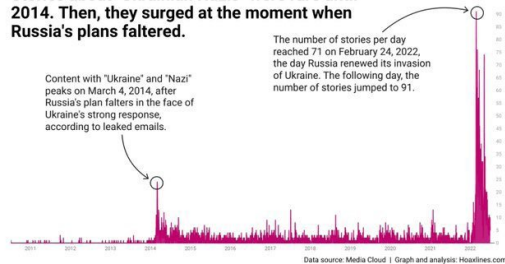

Red: Russian nationalist and neo-Nazi, Alexei Maximov, aka "the Fly"

Yellow and Blue: Repeat appearances at neo-Nazi rallies with Maximov

Stories about "Ukrainian Nazis" were rare until 2014. Then, they surged at the moment when Russia's plans faltered.

Content with "Ukraine" and "Nazi" peaks on March 4, 2014, after Russia's plan falters in the face of Ukraine's strong response, according to leaked emails.

The number of stories per day reached 71 on February 24, 2022, the day Russia renewed its invasion of Ukraine. The following day, the number of stories jumped to 91.

Data source: Media Cloud | Graph and analysis: Hoaxlines.com

THAT PREWAR Odesa's Jews lived peacefully and happily might come as a shock to some. Despite the fact that Ukraine's far Right has never won more than 5% of the national vote since 2014, Russia has invested billions of dollars into convincing the world that Ukraine is full of Nazis. Unfortunately, a significant number of foreigners still bought this narrative.

"Before the war, we laughed at this. We thought it was a joke. But now, it's a very painful joke. It hurts. It's impossible to say that Ukraine is full of Nazis. It's wrong," said Rabbi Wolff.

"The fact that we live there and continue to live here – that's the best thing we can do against this propaganda."

Like many other Ukrainian Jews, Wolff was quick to point out that Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky is Jewish, and that 68% of Ukrainians voted for him while being fully aware of this fact. Wolff also emphasized that, in 2019, only two countries had both a Jewish president and prime minister: Ukraine and Israel.

The majority of the world's Jewish intelligentsia seems to understand political Ukraine's realities. Last February, just three days after Russian President Vladimir Putin's invasion, over 300 academics specializing in Nazism and the Holocaust signed a public letter, published in The Jewish Journal, condemning Russia's invasion of Ukraine and its attempts to denigrate Ukrainians as Nazis.

Wolff claims that, over the past 30 years, he hasn't experienced any serious incidents of antisemitism. "Not a sliver – not from any of the neighbors and never from the government."

En effet, la Russie a un nombre massif de nazis, actifs, nommés et identifiables, y compris dans des rôles politiques et militaires élevés, et l'État russe les soutient et les encourage activement.

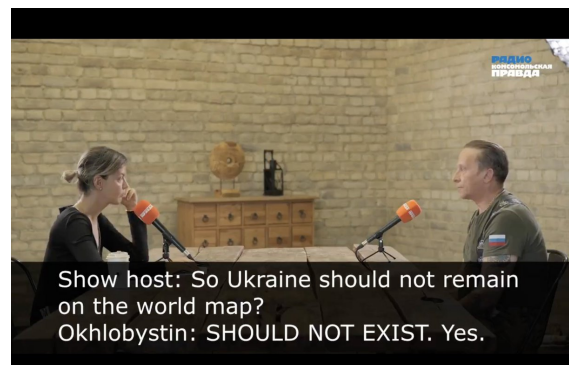

INFO

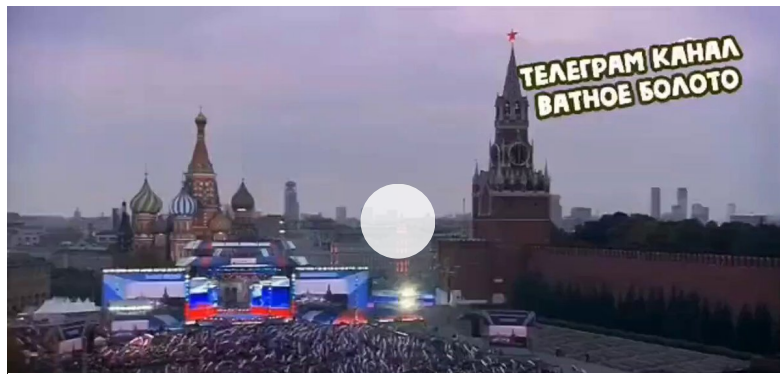

Il y a Ivan Okhlobystin, appelant à une « guerre sainte » contre le « vieux monde » de la place Rouge de Moscou. Il ne s'agissait pas d'un rassemblement mineur de certains extrémistes, mais entièrement toléré et organisé par l'État russe.

Et le voici avec Malofeev et Dugin, proclamant que « la Russie est un empire, et tout empire lutte pour l'expansion. Et il n'y aura pas de repos pour nous tant que la Russie n'aura pas établi son protectorat sur la planète entière. », aux applaudissements enthousiastes de leurs deux, et du public.

Show host: So Ukraine should not remain on the world map?
Okhlobystin: SHOULD NOT EXIST. Yes.

0:00 / 0:00

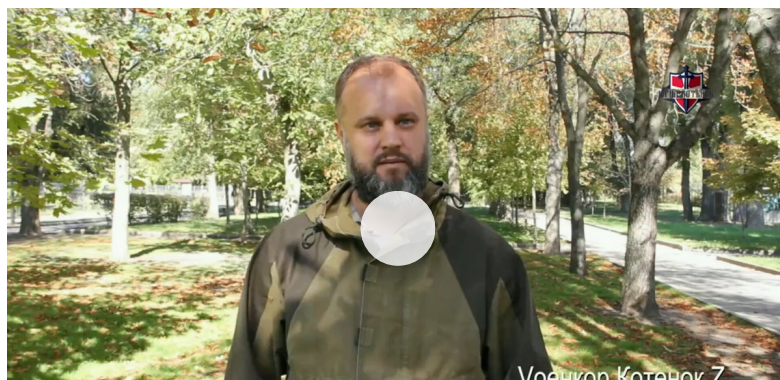

0:00 / 0:00

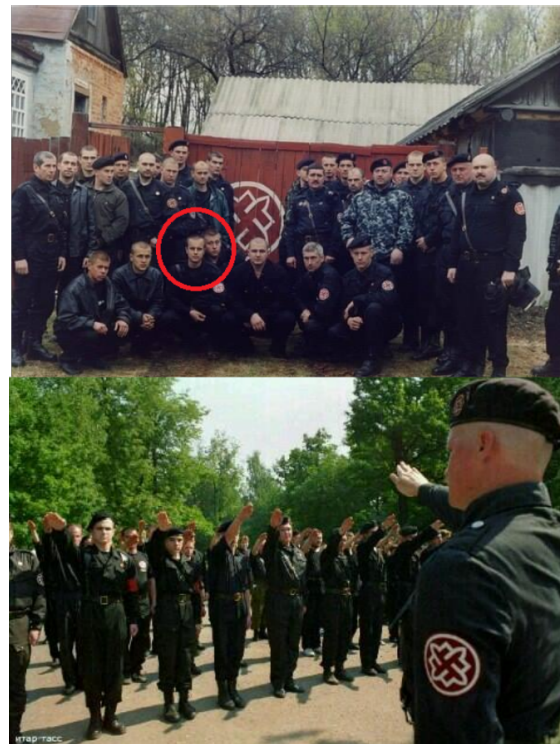

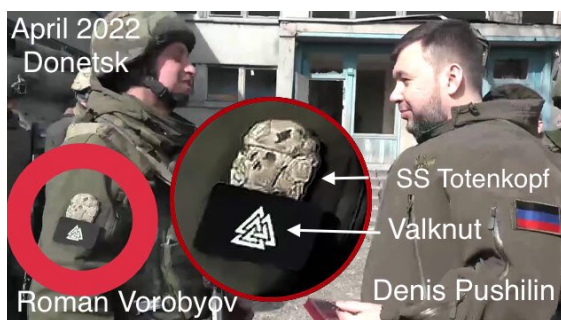

Le Kremlin soutient la renaissance de l'Union antisémite de l'ère tsariste du peuple russe

Il y a aussi des nazis russes impliqués dans l'invasion et l'occupation de l'Ukraine, tels que Pavel Gubarev et Denis Pouchiline (encore une fois, des symboles nazis et des plans de génocide ouvert, mais ils appelleront toujours les nazis ukrainiens).

0:00 / 0:00

Rusich et Alexey Milchakov, qui disent ouvertement « Je suis un nazi ».

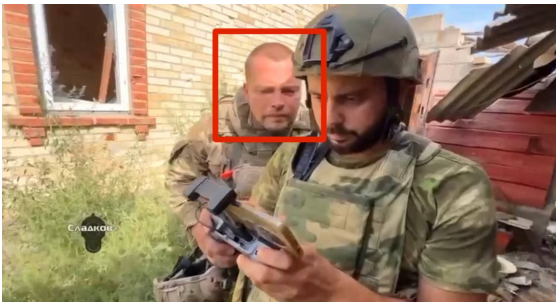

Oui, la Russie a envoyé ouvertement les nazis en disant qu'ils étaient nazis pour « dénazifier » l'Ukraine, un pays avec un président juif élu.

Le nazi a même une petite amie nazie.

Alexey Milchakov
 aka "Fritz" aka "Serb"
 part of Russian PMC "Wagner"
 Fights on Russian side in Ukraine
 since 2014

0:00 / 0:00

Il y a les criminels de Wagner inspirés par les nazis et les criminels de guerre, bien sûr, qui (comme les nazis originaux de la Seconde Guerre mondiale!) ont été pleinement soutenus par l'État russe... jusqu'à ce qu'ils marchent sur Moscou.

Wagner a ensuite été réorganisé et intégré à l'armée russe, rebaptisé « Afrika Korps » d'inspiration non-nazie.

Dmitry Utkin, the Nazi-tattooed commander who gave Wagner its name

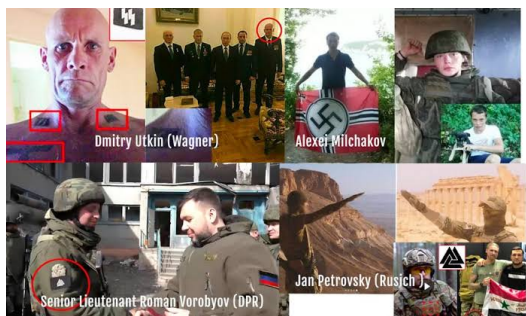

Right-hand man of boss Yevgeny Prigozhin served in Russian military during Chechen wars, led mercenary group's military operations since about 2014

By AFP
24 August 2023, 4:26 am

A portrait of Dmitry Utkin, a Wagner figure who managed Prigozhin's operations and allegedly served in Russian military intelligence, is seen at the makeshift memorial in Moscow, on August 24, 2023. (Natalia Kolomoieva/AFP)

MOSCOW, Russia — A rare photo of the Wagner group's military commander shows a man with a shaved head, a cold stare and the Nazi SS symbol tattooed on both sides of his neck.

The African Corps

1 186 subscribers

The official channel of The African Corps of the Russian Defense Ministry

Our profession is war! Be with us on any continent.

...

VIEW IN TELEGRAM

Preview channel

Afrika Korps

50 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

"DAK" redirects here. For other uses, see DAK (disambiguation) and Afrika Korps (disambiguation).

"Africa Corps" redirects here. For the rebranded Russian private military company, see Africa Corps (Russia).

The German Africa Corps (German: Deutsches Afrikakorps, pronounced [ˈdɔʏtʃəs ˈʔaʁuika kɔʁp] [ⓘ]; DAK), commonly known as Afrika Korps, was the German expeditionary force in Africa during the North African campaign of World War II. First sent as a holding force to shore up the Italian defense of its African colonies, the formation fought on in Africa, under various appellations,

German Africa Corps
Deutsches Afrikakorps

Seal of the Afrika Korps
Active
Country
Branch
Active
Country
Branch

Et tous les nazis occidentaux soutiennent aussi la Russie. Ils se rassemblent régulièrement en Russie à l'invitation de Malofeev.

Par l'intermédiaire de ses réseaux maloféev et duginiste, la Russie infiltre ou parraine toutes sortes de groupes et de partis d'extrême droite en Europe, qui sont ensuite approuvés par Elon Musk.

IF RUSSIA IS FIGHTING AGAINST NAZIS IN UKRAINE ...

WHY DO ALL THE NAZIS IN THE WEST SUPPORT RUSSIA?

THE INSIDER

DONATEPVQ

POLITICS

Return of the "Black International": Neo-Nazis flock to St. Petersburg after invitation by Russia's "Orthodox" oligarch Konstantin Malofeev

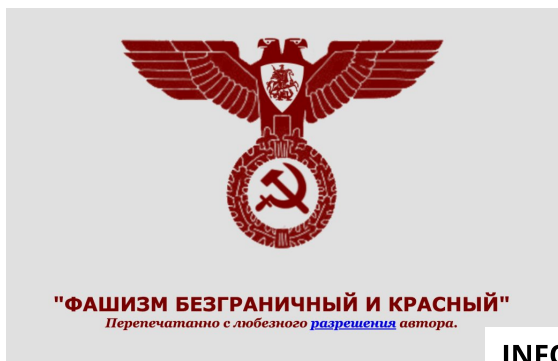

Ivan Astashin, Maria Chernykh
October 15, 2025

On Sept. 12, an international congress of far-right and neo-Nazi movements was held in the Mariinsky Palace in St. Petersburg, the seat of the city's parliament. The event was organized by Konstantin Malofeev, a self-styled "Orthodox" billionaire who has been accused of fraud and cryptocurrency theft. Malofeev began organizing gatherings of far-right forces as early as the spring of 2014 – the same year he financed armed militants led by Igor Girkin ("Strelkov"), first in Crimea and then in the Donbas. Unlike those meetings from a decade ago, the latest gathering attracted several open Nazi sympathizers. Among those in attendance were neo-fascists from Italy and Brazil, neo-Nazis from Greece's Golden Dawn, radical nationalists from Serbia, Germany's Alternative für Deutschland (AfD), and other far-right groups. The conference also featured speeches by fascist ideologue Alexander Dugin and Swiss conspiracy theorist and anti-Semite Alain Soral. The event concluded with the establishment of the International Sovereignist League "Paladins," named after a murderous terrorist organization founded by a former SS officer.

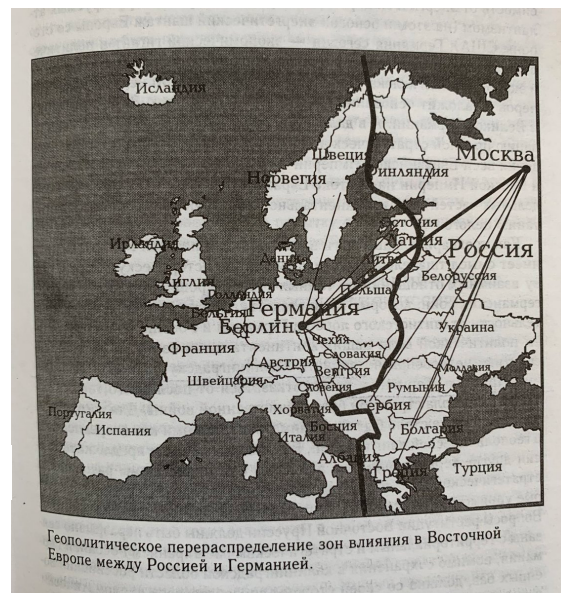

Oui, nous devrions mentionner Dugin, son « fascisme rouge », ses rêves d'un Molotov-Ribbentrop redux, de détruire l'Occident en semant le chaos, en particulier le séparatisme et les conflits raciaux en soutenant les extrémistes des deux côtés, et finalement un empire mondial s'étendant « de Vladivostok à Lisbonne ».

INFO

Foundations of Geopolitics

Aleksandr Dugin

century, when the role of the United States became obvious. In this regard, the position is clear: it is necessary to counteract US Atlanticist geopolitics at all levels and in all regions of the world, trying to weaken, demoralise, deceive and, ultimately, defeat the enemy as much as possible. It is especially important to bring geopolitical turmoil into the US domestic reality by encouraging all kinds of separatism, various ethnic, social and racial conflicts, actively supporting all dissident movements of extremist, racist and sectarian groups that destabilize internal political processes in the USA. At the same time, it makes sense to support isolationist tendencies in US politics, the theses of those (often right-wing Republican) circles that believe that the US should confine itself to its domestic problems. This state of affairs is

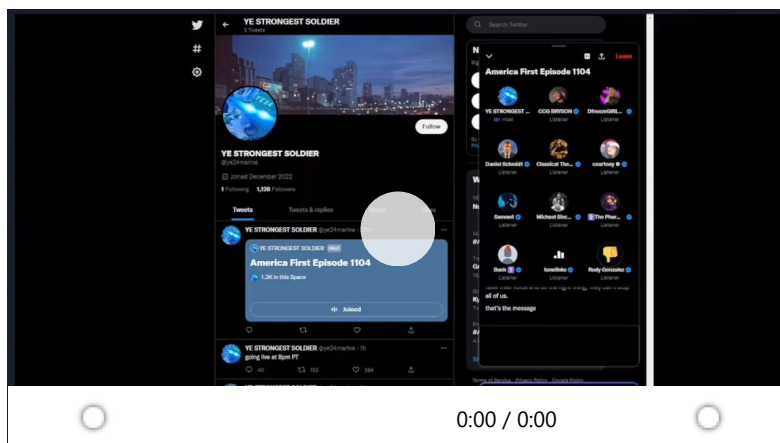

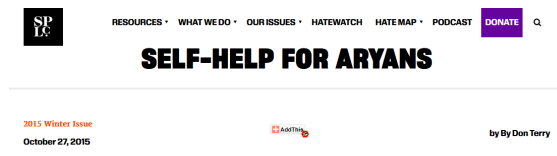

358

INFO

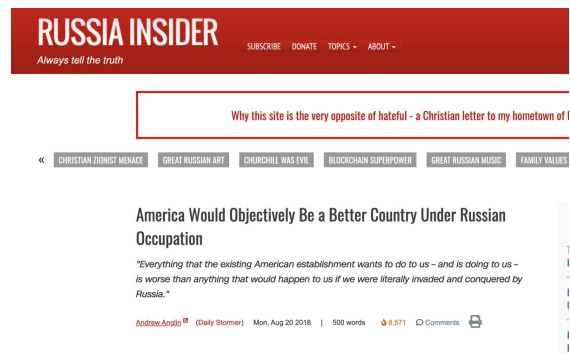

0:00 / 0:00

Aux États-Unis, il y a Lucas Gage et Nick Fuentes, qui est « bien sûr pro-Poutine, très pro-Russie », et qui « j'aime Hitler, je le fais, et j'en ai marre de prétendre que je ne le fais pas ».

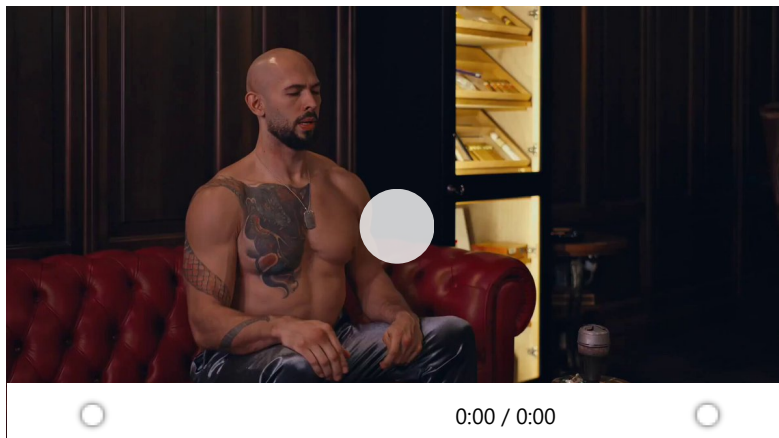

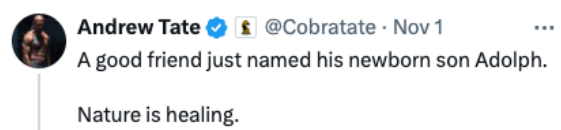

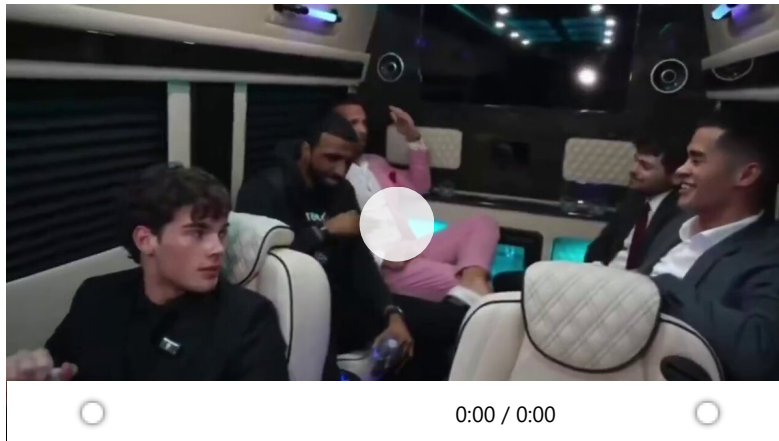

Son pote nazi Andrew Anglin, qui loue une occupation russe des États-Unis, a également été ramené sur Twitter par Musk sous le couvert de la « liberté d'expression ».

Les Tates, qui ont fait la fête avec Nick Fuentes, Clavicular et Myron Gaines (celui qui fait un salut nazi). Ils se sont récemment rendus en Russie et sont maintenant en prison, dans l'attente d'une extradition vers le Royaume-Uni pour des dizaines d'accusations criminelles.

Pedo vatniks

D'Allemagne, Kim Schmitz (« Dotcom »), qui était récemment sur Tucker Carlson. Il encourage maintenant l'invasion russe de l'Europe de la sécurité lointaine de la Nouvelle-Zélande, en attendant son extradition vers les États-Unis pour violation présumée du droit d'auteur, racket et fraude par fil.

Mais avant même d'y arriver, Kim semble déjà terriblement préoccupé par « le fait de « virer les Juifs d'Amérique ». Ses lectures sur le sujet sont sa copie signée du Mein Kampf d'Hitler, et le tristement célèbre canular russe grotesque, Les Protocoles des Anciens de Sion.

Kim Dotcom  @KimDotcom · Oct 13

They use the media to lie to us.
They use banking to control us.
They use bribery to destroy us.
They want nothing good for us.

#KickThemOut

Everyone else did for 2000 years.

Controversy Over Signed Copy of 'Mein Kampf'

Internet tycoon Kim Dotcom admits owning the book, denies Nazi sympathies

BY HANNAH DREYFUS

MARCH 28, 2014

One of two rare copies of "Mein Kampf" signed by Adolf Hitler up for auction in Los Angeles, California on February 25, 2014. (FREDERIC J. BROWN/APPI/Getty Images)

GERMAN-BORN INTERNET ENTREPRENEUR KIM DOTCOM IS simultaneously fighting extradition from New Zealand to the United States on racketeering charges and criticism for owning a rare signed copy of Hitler's Mein Kampf. The founder of MegaUpload, however, denies being a Nazi sympathizer, JTA reports.

Dotcom, whose real name is Kim Schmitz, founded the Internet Party

Kim Dotcom

41.4K posts

Kim Dotcom

@KimDotcom

Entrepreneur, Innovator, Gamer, Artist, Internet Freedom Fighter & Father of 6

Contact: superyacht@gmail.com kim.com Joined June 2012 >

18.3K Following 1.7M Followers

Posts ▾

Replies

Highlights

Media

 Pinned

Kim Dotcom  @KimDotcom · Mar 5

3 hour poll.

Do you want the Jews kicked out of America?

11,729 votes · Final results

1.7K

2.5K

8.1K

2.4M

@KimDotcom has blocked you

You can view public posts from @KimDotcom, but you are blocked from engaging with them. You also cannot follow or message @KimDotcom.

De France, Alain Soral et de sa tasse à café « Der Führer », se cachant désormais à Moscou de la méchante « sioniste » après avoir été condamné dans deux pays européens deux douzaines de fois pour son antisémitisme, son discours de haine et sa négation de l'Holocauste.

Alain Soral Official @officielsoral

La France étant totalement sous occupation des suprémacistes sionistes, c'est d'ici que se mène le combat pour la libération de la France désormais !
Je reviendrai...

11:54 AM · 28 févr. 2026 · 2,7 M vues

Richard Hanania @RichardHanania · 20h

Switzerland sentences a journalist to 60 days in jail for calling a journalist a "fat lesbian."

NBC News trumpets it as a great victory for civil rights.

Don't forget who these people are, and what they would do to you if they had the power.

Swiss LGBTQ groups praise jail sentence for commentator who called journalist a 'fat lesbian'

Writer and commentator Alain Soral lashed out at journalist Catherine Macherel in a Facebook video two years ago, calling her a "fat lesbian" who was "unhinged."

979 2,797 12K 1M

Elon Musk @elonmusk

What he wrote was certainly rude, but to make it a criminal offense ... ?

INFO

Un autre collectionneur de tasses nazi et apologiste nazi est Darryl Cooper, promu par Tucker Carlson juste avant Kim Schmitz.

Sa compréhension de l'histoire de l'Ukraine est tout aussi mauvaise que sa connaissance de la Seconde Guerre mondiale, bien sûr.

Darryl Cooper

This may be putting it too crudely for some, but the picture on the left was infinitely preferable in virtually every way than the one on the right.

Cernovich @Cernovich · 13h

After the Paris opening ceremony, which I put on for my daughters, I don't care what happens to France. Can't get any worse than the few minutes we saw. Insulting to Christians and secular people alike. Go to Hell, Paris.

Martyr Made @martyrmade · Nov 11, 2021
I mean it: If our leaders get us into a war with Russia over Ukraine, which has been in the Russian sphere of influence for 1000 years, we should go to (redacted), drag the (redacted) out of their offices, (redacted) them (redacted), & (redacted) their (redacted) from lampposts.

Jacqui Heinrich @JacquiHeinrich · Nov 10, 2021
15 House R's led by @MikeTurnerOH ask POTUS to consider sending US troops to Ukraine, immediately send intel & weapons support -- as Russian forces stage on border. T saying Russian troops/tanks & aggressive behavior fuels concerns Russia is planning additional incursions

36 67 464

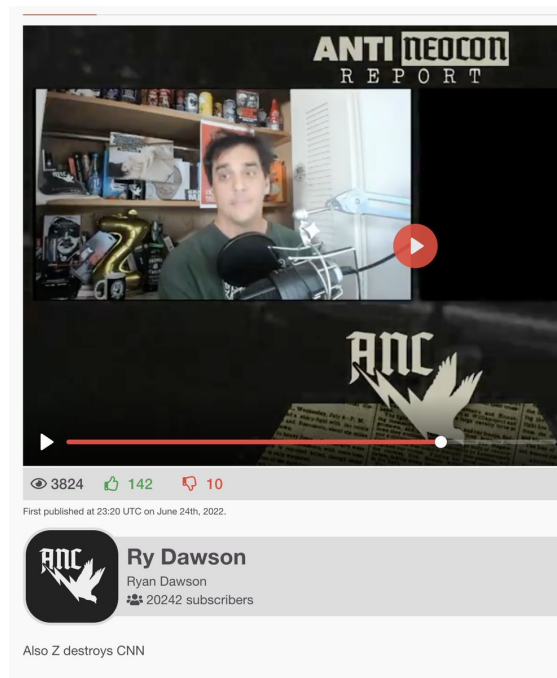

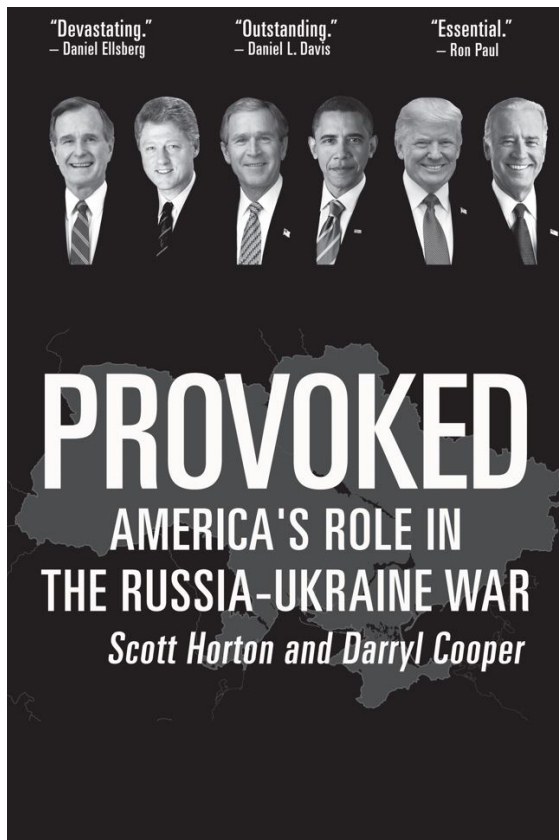

Raf (chief pleb) @333frenchforest · Nov 11, 2021
If Putin takes over Ukraine without opposition, do you think he will just be content or advance to Poland?

1

Martyr Made @martyrmade · Nov 11, 2021
Replying to @333frenchforest
I reject the premise of the question as absurd. Putin has shown no signs at all of trying to take over Ukraine. Russia provided aid to ethnic Russian separatists after a Western-supported violent coup against the elected Ukraine government began a civil war.

Et un vatrik comme Scott Horton n'a aucun problème à travailler avec lui, tout en criant sur « les nazis en Ukraine ».

Idem avec le négationniste Ryan Dawson et son soutien à « Z », le symbole de l'invasion génocidaire de l'Ukraine, régulièrement blanchi à la chaux et promu à la fois par les médias d'État russes RT et les Kremlintaires « anti-guerre » (lol) comme Scott Horton.

In this fourth dimension of journalism, guests can even improve their skills from one interview to another: a certain Ryan Dawson was presented as a “journalist” to talk about the war in Yemen, then as a “political blogger” to speak about the annexation of Crimea, before being promoted to “peace activist and human rights activist” on the issue of American military bases in Japan, then “author and analyst” on the Sino-Japanese territorial conflict, or even “journalist specializing in Asian affairs” on the subject of tensions between the two Koreas. His career on RT reached its peak in 2013, when he was crowned “geopolitical analyst” – sorry – for criticizing detention conditions at Guantánamo on air. At no time will the channel have specified its main activity: Holocaust denial blogger.

7/10/20 Ryan Dawson on Cancel Culture, Police Reform and the War on Drugs

Scott talks to Ryan Dawson about cancel culture and the latest wave of deplatforming, of which Dawson himself is a victim. Dawson, who spends much of his time fighting against the neoconservative ideology, has come under fire over and over again for the alleged thought crimes of racism and anti-semitism. In reality, of course, Dawson is the furthest thing from a racist, having devoted much of his life to advocating things like police reform and the abolition of the war on drugs. But he has also been staunchly antiwar, and that has helped to earn him some vocal enemies. Scott and Dawson go on to discuss the Marxist roots of Black Lives Matter, the history of slavery, the economies of Africa and skateboarding as a force for social good.

Il y a beaucoup d'autres exemples. Nazis ou pas, nous avons déjà soupé beaucoup de ces vatniks, trop nombreux pour nous lier ici. Vous pouvez en savoir plus à leur sujet ainsi que des plongées profondes et des ressources sur le sujet sur notre site Web:

Vatniks nazis | Soupe Vatnik

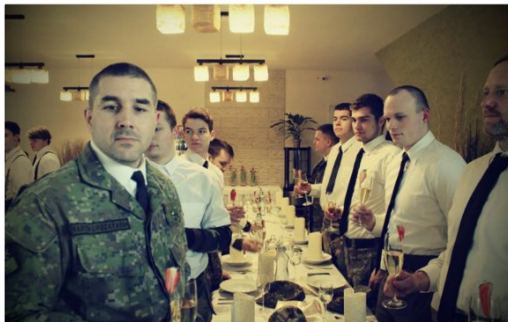

La Russie elle-même est plus nihiliste que nazie ou communiste à ce stade. Le Kremlin peut glorifier Staline ou l'empire tsariste, défendre Hitler, les fascistes et les communistes le même jour, et appeler qui ils décident d'envahir « nazis » sans voir de contradiction.

Democracy

Russia keeps setting up and backing neo-Nazi fighting groups in the West

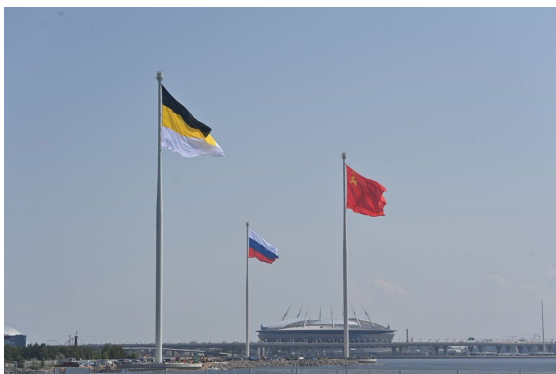

January 27, 2021

Russia keeps setting up fighting groups of neo-Nazi ideology under its sway in Western countries, providing training, supply and political lobbying for them.

It came to light in 2020 that Moscow was training the combat wing for the German neo-Nazi Der Dritte Weg at a practice facility near St. Petersburg.

Rinaldo Nazzaro, founder of the Base Nazi terror group, claims he is attempting to once again set up a paramilitary training network across the U.S. Nazzaro lives in Russia, is married to a Russian woman and, needless to say, is supervised by Russian intelligence. The group itself sticks to a racist ideology close to neo-Nazism. After Russian connection was revealed at the Capitol's seizure on January 6, 2021, it is beyond doubt the Russian intelligence coordinates fighting radical groups in NATO countries.

Putin's fascists: The Russian state's long history of cultivating homegrown neo-Nazis

By Robert Horvath

The Conversation

World Politics

Posted 22 Mar 2022 at 5:28am, updated 23 Mar 2022 at 3:19am

Vladimir Putin regime's has its own record of collaboration with far-right extremists. (AP, Sputnik, Kremlin Pool Photo)

abc.net.au/news/putins-fascists-russias-home-grown-neo-nazis/100927582

Share

Many commentators have already debunked Russian President Vladimir Putin's absurd claim to be waging war to 'de-Nazify' Ukraine.

Some have pointed out the far right received only 2 per cent of the vote in Ukraine's 2019 parliamentary elections, far less than in most of Europe. Others have drawn attention to Ukraine's Jewish president, Volodymyr Zelenskyy, and the efforts of the Ukrainian state to protect minorities like Crimean Tatars and LGBTQ+ people, who are subject to brutal persecution in Russia.

What has received less coverage is the Putin regime's own record of collaboration with far-right extremists. Even as Russian diplomats condemned 'fascists' in the Baltic states and Kremlin propagandists railed against imaginary 'Ukroneazis' in power in Kyiv, the Russian state was cultivating its own homegrown Nazis.

Flag raising ceremony

The President took part in a ceremony of raising the flags of the Russian Federation, the USSR and the Russian Empire on the coast of the Gulf of Finland.

June 17, 2023 13:35 St Petersburg

Exemple: le meurtrier de masse nazi Anders Breivik (en prison), qui aime vraiment la Zwastika aussi, mais peut-être pas autant que Tara Reade (maintenant à Moscou) et ses amis staliniens.

L'incarnation du fer à cheval de vatnik: quiconque et n'importe quoi profite à l'expansion agressive et territoriale de la Russie, et renforce la puissance de son «tsar» actuel.

0:00 / 0:00

La Russie dépense $5 milliards par an pour la propagande pour fabriquer de la passivité vers ses invasions génocidaires, présentant de telles absurdités comme un pays pacifique et démocratique avec un président juif librement élu ayant besoin d'une « dénazification » par des criminels de Wagner inspirés par les nazis.

Nous faisons des recherches basées sur des faits pour contrer cela. S'il vous plaît soutenir notre travail:

► Plus de soupe ?

Vatnik 🍲 Soupe
Soutenir notre travail